Local Home Staging Professional To Speak At RE/MAX of Michigan Regional Conference

BRIGHTON, MICHIGAN, February 4, 2009—Livingston County Accredited Staging Professional, Kathi Presutti, owner of RE:STYLE Home Staging and Redesign, a leading home staging company, will again be sharing practical, money-making advice with hundreds of Realtors on February 14, 2009. "In concert with correct pricing, home staging is the best way to sell a house fast, and savvy Realtors understand this," says Presutti. Presutti wants to help more Realtors reap the benefits of home staging. National statistics show that staged houses sell twice as quickly as un-staged homes. "A house that's for sale needs to show better than any other house in that price range. I have used RE:STYLE to help my clients because I know that a professionally staged house gives them the competitive advantage and can make all the difference," says Tim Sova of RE/MAX Platinum in Brighton. Sova adds, "We will be using RE:STYLE in the future, too, to consult with our clients on those all-important staging recommendations."

RE/MAX of Michigan is providing valuable information and inspiration at their Regional Conference, held at the Grand Traverse Resort in Traverse City. Presutti is speaking in a break-out session, one of several being offered to assist and motivate conference attendees.
